

The European Association for Sport and Social Integration (EASI) is a group made up of health and community groups from 12 European countries who promote sport to improve the wellbeing of people with mental health issues and learning disabilities. Each year they hold a football tournament which brings together more than 25 teams.

Many people play sports to help them to lead a happy and satisfying life. However, people experiencing mental health problems are often excluded from these activities because of their conditions.

In June 2018, England will host the EASI World Cup at Barnsley Football Club in South West Yorkshire and you are invited to take part.
